Hathaway's BREAD

MARTHA LEE PRAISES HATHAWAY'S BREAD

Cake and Cookies Are Delicious, Too

You will notice that Hathaway's Bread has been added to the recommended food products represented on this page each Monday.

When I first started to investigate baker's bread for you last June, the Hathaway plant was the first that I inspected and it was on that first trip that I lost the last vestige of any prejudice that might have been handed down to me from generations of home-made bread makers, against modern baker's bread.

In the C. P. Hathaway & Sons plant even the air is washed that fills the mixing, rising, and baking rooms and I truly believe that everything, except the bakers themselves is boiled in live steam. And even these men have their ritual of daily showers, medical inspection and special uniforms.

No human hand touches Hathaway's bread from the time the raw material is poured into the great mixers to the moment the last drop of wax seals the paraffin paper around the crisp brown loaves. And speaking of wax materials, I wish you could see the great cans of milk with cream many inches deep on top, the pure lard and refined sugar, the best of yeast and sweetly blended flour that go to make this perfect loaf for you.

You would be pleased, too, at the great brown eggs that go into the Dottie Dicks cakes which so many of our club members write me that they love the sugar cookies especially, and you can always feel that in getting your own Hathaway's bread, cookies and cake you are enjoying the same high-grade of pure, unadulterated, healthful food that you would prepare for them in your own kitchen.

Recipes on How to Prepare Parts of Today's Menu

MAZOLA FRENCH DRESSING

- 8 tablespoons Mazola 5c
- 3 tablespoons Lemon Juice or Vinegar 3c
- 1 teaspoon salt 1-3c
- 1 teaspoon sugar 1-3c
- 1/2 teaspoon paprika 1-3c

Mix dry ingredients. Add Mazola and lemon juice or vinegar and beat until creamy. This dressing may be made in larger quantities and kept in a bottle and shaken as used. This is the regulation recipe for French Dressing, but the proportions of oil and acid may be reversed to make it a little more tart for those desiring a sharper dressing.

A little Chili Sauce or Catsup also gives added piquancy.

Total cost 9c. Serves 4. Cost per person 2c.

BRAISED BEEF A LA PAKARD

- 2 lbs. beef round or rump without bone 50c
- 2 slices fat salt pork 2c
- 1/2 c. carrots, diced 1c
- 1/2 c. turnips, diced 1c
- 1/2 c. onions, diced 1c
- 1/2 c. celery, diced 1c

Try out the pork. Wipe the meat, sprinkle with salt and pepper, dredge with flour and brown entire surface in the pork fat. Place in inset dish and surround with vegetables. Cook 30 minutes at 15 lbs. pressure.

Total cost of recipe 56c. Serves 6. Cost per person 9c.

A GENEROUS OFFER

Tetley Tea Co. Will Send Large Sample Free

A few weeks ago you will remember an offer I made on this page to send samples of Tetley's Tea to any one who would write to me for them. My large supply of samples went so fast that I was obliged to discontinue some of you in order to save samples to go in the souvenir bags which were distributed at the Twin Birthday parties of the WNAU American Women's Club on April 1 and 14.

The Tetley Company also donated a very generous supply of samples that were distributed as souvenirs at our club booth at the Home Beautiful Exposition last week and I was so pleased to have many of the members who called at the booth tell me how much they had enjoyed the samples that I had sent them or that they had obtained at the Birthday party.

Tetley's is really a tea that stands in a class by itself, but of course you must do your part in bringing out its delicate flavor by making it properly, according to the directions I have already given you.

There is an interesting demonstration of Tetley's Tea going on right now in the food department of The Houghton and Dutton Co. and I know that you will want to purchase one of the Tetley Tea Caddies which hold ten pounds of first-class tea and sells complete, caddy and tea, for $1 which is the usual price of the tea alone. These caddies are very artistic and useful and best of all have an air-tight opening which your hand will slip easily.

The Tetley Tea Company have generously offered to send, without charge, a package of their tea large enough to make 48 cups of tea. Any reader of this page who will write to them direct, saying that they will take the offer in this paper, Address: J. Tetley & Co., Inc., 188 Mills St., Boston 10, Mass.

I do hope that every one of you will take advantage of this most generous offer and become acquainted with one of the finest teas on the market today.

Experience—!

That's the Powerful One Word Story of

TORCH CUP CONES

Ice Cream

For life work has been the making of high grade cones. These years of experience have taught us the one best way to make the one best product. There is but one genuine Torch Cup Cone. It has the two side lapt and the name "Torch Cup" on the cone.

For Safety's Sake—Say "Torch Cup"

MAY PARTY SUGGESTIONS

Baskets—Costumes—Refreshments

Are you planning a May Party for your little girl this year? Echoing the old English custom of dancing on the green with its pretty ceremonies of the May Queen and heading the May Pole, is becoming more and more popular and then there is always the fun of filling May baskets with sweets, hanging them on the door knob, and running and hiding.

Frisbees. These will be very glad to give directions for making a costume for the May Queen from her crown to her wand, and there are special costumes for the King too and all the courtiers.

Of chief importance, of course, are the refreshments. Sandwiches are the real mainstay that will satisfy appetites made keener by the spring breeze. Of course, no party would be complete without ice cream and cake but it is quite a problem to serve these out of doors.

If, however, you will serve the cream in Torch Cup cones you will not only save yourself much trouble and dish washing but you will have added a great deal to the children's enjoyment. Is there anything in the world that their love better than cones? And when you give them Torch Cup cones you can be positively sure that you are giving them something made under absolutely sanitary conditions that will contain a single thing you wouldn't be glad to have go into their precious little mouths.

All the ingredients in Torch Cup Cones are absolutely pure, and best of all the cones are introduced by human hands during the process of manufacture.

Watch for the little ears which are set on each side of every genuine Torch Cup.

There are many other uses for Torch Cup cones besides ice cream. Cold, simple puddings can be served in them, and gelatines, too, topped with whipped cream. Deserts served this way make a real treat for the convalescent child. In the ones whose appetites have to be specially tempted. Always ask for Torch Cup cones, won't you?

JUNKET, THE JIFFY DESSERT

Wholesome, Nourishing, and Economical

"I always thought that Junket was just for babies and invalids but now I have tried your Junket Raspberry Delight I realize that it is delicious and substantial enough for a real company dessert. I am going to try lots of the other Junket mixes soon, too," said one of our members during a call at the WNAU American Women's Club booth at the Home Beautiful show last week.

Perhaps you feel a little bit as she did, but if you will just get a little better acquainted with this wholesome and delicious dessert I know you will be as enthusiastic over it as I am.

Junket is such a time saver, too, and with a package or two always on your shelves you are insured against the dreadful sinking of the heart that all of us have experienced when we are unexpected company at the door and "not a thing in the house to eat. Now that strawberries are in season they can be combined deliciously with vanilla Junket and whipped cream. Oranges Junket with walnut meats and fig newtons will make a nice company dessert. And chocolate Junket, with marshmallow cherries and whipped cream is good enough to wet before a king.

Junket powder or Junket (tablets) will make ice cream creamy with lots less cream, and it will be wonderfully smooth and fine grained, too, and I am sure you will want to get acquainted with the Junket food coloring which will tint your frosting, ice cream, lemonades, gelatines and candies most attractively. Pretty colors are always so tempting and when they are as pure as the Junket colors they are quite as important as your flavoring.

I am sure that all of you are familiar with the value of Junket to convalescent cookery and as a wonderful milk food for children, and if you will watch this page carefully each week you will know you will learn many new and interesting ways of using one of the purest and most wholesome dessert helps I know of.

Marion Davies in "Zander The Great"

TODAY! Marion Davies' most appealing role
Cosmopolitan's most unusual picture

"Zander the Great"

A modern story of a young orphan girl who fled cross-country in a broken-down flivver with a four-year-old boy as her sole companion and who in the desert wastes of Arizona met a series of adventures that would make even a cowboy tremble.

A picture brimful of comedy, packed with excitement — and many poignant tugs at the heartstrings.

A picture that marks a new and unique triumph for Miss Davies.

MARION DAVIES OPENS IN NEW FILM TODAY

"Zander the Great." Cosmopolitan Star's Newest Picture at Loew's State

Marion Davies in her latest photograph, "Zander the Great," will be the next attraction at Loew's State Theatre this week, starting today. As "Hank," the heroine of this famous stage play, which was adapted for the screen by Frances Marion, Miss Davies enacts a role that is said to place her in the very forefront of comedians. The entire play is based upon the search of "Mamie" for "Zander's" father in the west, "Zander" being a boy child, played by a newcomer to the screen, little Jack Huff, a young son of four who was discovered by Miss Davies. Beginning with her childhood in an orphan asylum, and carrying her through a series of exciting episodes in the far west, "Zander the Great" provides Miss Davies with an opportunity for a whimsical, humorous characterization.

In the cast are the following players: Robert Boothby, Harry Myers, Holbrook Blinn, Harry Watson, Jr., Richard Carl, Emily Fitterer and Hedda Hopper. Western scenery and the Great American desert provide pictorial backgrounds for this picture. Harrison Ford, noted for his work in other Cosmopolitan pictures with Miss Davies, notably her last one, "Zander the Great," appears opposite her in the character of a western hero. "Zander" was adapted by Frances Marion from the stage play by Salisbury Field, George Hill directed the picture.

Auto-matic HEALTH

SOCONY is "Standard"

"LIFE these days is a high-speed affair and the gear ratio is getting higher. Difficult business to keep one's footing, to be free from worry, to guard a generous measure of abundant health.

"Sometimes I think the automobile is the greatest single agent of preventive medicine that we have in this hurly-burly age—that the mere ability to pack up at will and hit the long trail into the peace and quiet of the country, is a gift that few of us realize, and too few take advantage of.

"That's why I like to preach the gospel of Auto-matic Health—the best life assurance in the world. Nothing like the sun in your face and the wind at your back to keep the body fit and the courage soaring.

FULLER SPEAKS AT GYMNASIUM DEDICATION

Close to 400 men and women crowded the auditorium of the just completed Y. M. H. A. gymnasium in Roxbury to take part in the dedicating exercises, and listened to an address by Governor Alvan T. Fuller, the chief guest of the occasion.

"Really and truly I am enthused over your courage," said the governor, "in these times when everyone is taking business depression and everywhere words of pessimism permeate the air, it is indeed gratifying and satisfying to hear you talk gymnasium and erect it.

"As Edison said, 'Success in life is due more to perseverance than to inspiration.' This gym is a great undertaking. You have to fight and struggle hard to win and when you win that fight it means something."

At the head table where the guests and past presidents of the organization were seated such hard workers for Y. M. H. A. were Judge David A. Loring, Rabbi Rubenstein, Samuel B. Kinkel, David Watchmaker, Dr. Abraham Myerson, Nathan Heller, Casper Grossberg, Albert Hurwitz, Felix Adlow, Sam Bloom, Mary Livingston, Ralph Borchoff and Al Miller.

Rabbi Kinkel, as master of ceremonies, welcomed the men and women. He said:

"The Jewish community has overlooked the problem of the young man. We relieve the poor, provide for the orphan, aid the aged, take care of our prisoners, but the young man and young woman present a problem as necessary of social action as any other. Still we don't exert our efforts in this direction."

David S. Watchmaker, president of the association, outlined the course of action the organization plan to pursue. "The building, he said, costs $100,000. We are not afraid we can't pay for it," he said. "It is going to serve the community. We present it to the community as a gift from the Young Men's Hebrew Association. We dedicate it to the health of the community."

The $250,000 campaign for the construction of the new building for the Hebrew Ladies' Moshav Zealman Association on Queens street began today, with an address by Rabbi Harry Levi of Temple Israel, Commonwealth avenue. This campaign will be only among the members.

The Young Judaea mass meeting and Lag H'Omer celebration will take place at the Boston Young Men's Hebrew Association, Beaver street, next Sunday afternoon at 2 o'clock. As previously announced it was to take place at the Beth El Hebrew School. Inasmuch as booths are being constructed at the Beth El for the bazaar to be held in the building on May 11, the place of meeting was transferred.

Gould Heiress Tells the Intimate Details of Life of Rich

By EDITH GOULD WALNIGHT
Daughter of George J. Gould and Granddaughter of Jay Gould.
CHAPTER XXXVII.

A Papa's death, naturally, the entire family was thrown into great consternation. The one person who stood out prominently was my sister Marjorie, who had nursed Papa for the three months prior to his death, giving every minute of her time to him. She was a veritable pillar of strength and a wonderful comfort to her brothers and sisters in their bereavement.

I arrived at the villa Cap Martin, near Monte Carlo, just two weeks before my father died. He already had sunk into the unconsciousness which he never was to throw off, and I am sure he did not know me. But I always will remember his words when I met him in Paris the summer before:

"When I am dead, it will make you happy to remember that you always have done your duty by your father."

He referred to the fact that at the time of his second marriage I remained loyal to him. I knew I would have been my mother's wish.

At the same time Papa had gone on to say that, although he had made a great many mistakes in his life, he never had to regret a single act he had done in connection with his father. He said that later on in life it was a wonderful thing to feel that one always had been a dutiful child.

Of course, I think children always should remember the sacrifices that parents make for them when they are young. With very few exceptions, parents do their utmost for their children in accordance with their means.

The wife of one of the world's greatest newspaper men gives up her entire life to the care of her six children, and, giving them his personal care and attention. Most fathers and mothers are pals and companions to their children as well as just parents.

TOWN STIRRED LAST OF OLD BY MAY 30TH WHALE OF DANCE PARTY

Lunenburg, May 4.—Feeling runs high in this town today over the action of the Selectmen in granting an all-night dance permit at Whiston Park dance hall for the night before Memorial Day.

Church people are particularly incensed, and led by their pastors, are lining up for an attempt to have the action of the Selectmen reversed.

The Rev. J. T. Moseley, pastor of a Congregational Church, and the Rev. J. T. Moseley, pastor of a Methodist Church, are leading a fight to obtain a revocation of the permit.

They declare that Memorial Day should be observed with reverence and not with revelry.

The permit, the first ever issued for the night before Memorial Day, was granted to L. E. Hall and R. L. Larkin, who lease the dance hall at Whiston Park from the Pilsbury & Loomis Street Railway Company.

The Board of Selectmen refused to grant the permit, and the town clerk, Ralph L. White, offers all questioners to the town a "five for five" deal, or, in other words, a person can dance all night long and not pay a cent.

There are those among the church people who want to continue the Memorial Day for the sake of the all-night dance. I have also seen many of the church people who want to continue the Memorial Day for the sake of the all-night dance.

I am against the permit and my hope is that the church will stand behind me.

The Rev. Mr. Moseley said he would consult with patriotic organizations in an attempt to obtain a reversal of the Selectmen's action.

Leon Jowers, commander of the local post of the American Legion, said he will bring to the attention of the legislature the matter of the dance permit, at the next session, on May 15. He said he was opposed to all-night dancing on the night in question.

A car fire started by a motorist in Rhode Island, halting all traffic.

Providence, May 4.—Two forest fires, one started by Girl Scouts burning caterpillars out of a tree, laid waste nearly three square miles of woodland and badly burned Mrs. Frances Hines, in charge of the Scouts.

The girls became hysterical when their own personal forest fire burned out of control, and, in their confusion, they set fire to the camp buildings and threatened the camp with destruction.

COOLIDGE GIVES JEWS PRAISE FOR CHARITY

Washington, May 4 (L.N.S.).—Racial hatred or jealousy, particularly that based on religious differences, has no place in the United States, President Coolidge told a gathering of 1,000 persons in a sermon delivered here at the dedication of a new Jewish community center.

The President extolled the record and character of American Jews and praised their participation in the development of the nation.

"Every inheritance of the Jewish people," he said, "is a source of pride and honor, and we may be sure that it will not desert it."

Prominent Jewish leaders, including Louis Marshall of New York, and other prominent figures, were present at the ceremony.

The President also mentioned the Jewish people's contribution to the development of the nation.

ABBY CUTS OUT BRIDESMAIDS FOR WEDDING

New York, May 4.—There will be no bridesmaids at the wedding of Abby Rockefeller to David Milson, it was learned today.

Abby's mother, Mrs. John D. Rockefeller, Jr., was married very quietly. There were no standbys at her wedding. The Rockefeller family will be married just simply.

The first plan to stage the wedding in Park Avenue Palace Hotel was abandoned. The ceremony will be quite typical. There will be no unnecessary fuss and only personal friends of the two families will be invited.

The Rockefeller children have been reared with ideals of simplicity and sincerity. The wedding ceremony will be quite typical. There will be no unnecessary fuss and only personal friends of the two families will be invited.

SITUATE COPS FIRED; WOMAN DEFENDS THEM

A woman today stepped to the defense of a police department in the attack of a mob of rioters.

The woman is Mrs. John Stonefield, wife of one of the accused rioters.

Mrs. Stonefield's charge that the rioters of the town were "passing the buck to the police" followed an announcement that Michael Revere, formerly chief of police at Bridgeport, had been appointed head of the Rhode Island police.

ONE INJURED AS GIRL SCOUTS' FIRE SWEEPS WOODS

BEAUTY AT ROSE CROIX COUNTY FAIR

BOSTON AMERICAN SPORTS

AMATEURS IN INTERNATIONAL BOUTS; STUMBLING VS. ROARS

SLATTERY

WRESTLING

By JACK CONWAY.

It will be with the gentleness of the cauliflower industry that a large wave in the gentle art of hit and get away.

There will be three shows in many days.

The international amateur wrestling bouts between the great wrestlers of South America, Canada and the United States will be staged on Wednesday evening under the direction of the New England A. U. Young Athletic Union.

There will be a heavyweight in a ten-round contest at the Commercial A. C. on Thursday evening.

On Friday night, the Buffalo A. U. will step into the picture with the world's famous slattery of Buffalo at the top of an amateur card with Johnny Kirsch of Cleveland as an opponent.

Then there will be Paul Browne's wrestling show on Saturday evening with slattery and a few others.

The fact certainly leaves an attractive program to pick from, of course the amateur wrestlers are clattering up to the sport because it will be all smiles when they go on their wrestling parties. It has been proved on more than one occasion that slattery is not able to support three shows in the same week, let alone three shows on one night after the other with his heavy wrestling match sandwiched in between the field attractions.

South American Boxers

Fit for Tournery

THE South American boxers are thoroughly acclimated and about to show at their best when they clash with the American and Canadian rivals at the Arena on Wednesday night.

The visitors have been able to take off more weight than they should have, and so should have in their weight when they step to the list at the St. Joseph's arena.

The fact that Joe Morris of Brockton will battle for the U. S. title in the heavyweight class has given an added kick to the show. Morris is by far the best semi-heavyweight in the New England and the arena are very anxious to see him when he does his stuff against the invaders.

Young Striking in Bow as Heavyweight will start his amateur career in the heavyweight class when he tackles Quinn Romero Roma, Argentine heavyweight, in a ten-round bout at the Commercial A. C. on Thursday night.

YOUNG STRIKING

Roma is a rugged, two-handed fighter and should give the Southern youth a severe test. The South American showed in his previous bouts in his Boston bout with Jack Slattery and Jack Kirsch. He didn't do so well against the latter.

Without taking any credit away from Slattery in his bout to Roma it should be stated that the latter was from a sick bed to meet the South American youth. He was still weak from effects of an attack of influenza when he entered the ring.

Tommy Freeman of New Britain, Ark., and Panama Joe McGee will clash in the semi-final of the ten-round, Tommy Jones, featherweight champion of the South, will collide with Walter Price, featherweight champion of Wales, in another eight-round tussle. Harry Donahue of Worcester and Sammy Moran of New York will open the show in another eight-round set.

Slattery is Pointing Towards Dempsey's Title

of Buffalo, N. Y., who cashes with Johnny Kirsch of Cleveland in a ten-round bout at the Buffalo A. C. on Friday night, is another young man who has hopes of winning Jimmy Dempsey's crown. In his Boston debut, the sensational slattery knocked out Augie Ratter in two rounds.

Thereafter, Slattery recently pursued a $15,000 offer to tackle Dempsey in a six-round bout at the St. Joseph's arena.

It will be the second meeting between Slattery and Dempsey. Their last bout was a six-round affair and was staged at Buffalo. The decision was a draw. Slattery, a youngster who is banked on to win the world's championship, is confident that with the help of four rounds longer than when he knocked Slattery at Buffalo that he will win.

Paul Doyle of New York will have Al Mills of Lowell as an opponent in the semi-final of ten rounds. Rocky Jones of Worcester will try to avenge the defeat he suffered in the hands of Jack Lewis of Worcester when he meets him in another ten-round bout.

Moe and Joe, They Get The Dough---Sometimes

SOX OPPOSE JOHNSON AT CAPITAL

Washington, May 4.—In an effort to place the Boston Red Sox back into the cellar position, Plot Harlow will call upon Walter Johnson to hurl today's game for the world's champions. The "Big Train" is in great form and Husky will depend upon him to make it two in a row.

But there is no talking about that crew under the guardianship of Lee Post, as they appear to be a pretty sturdy crowd at hitting the pipe, and may step out and make the afternoon an unpleasant one for the mighty Kansas cyborg.

The Hoosiers had little chance of climbing further up the ladder, as they lost to the Red Sox yesterday, and the Sox were in a mighty fine fettle today. The Sox scored their fair share of runs.

Wheeler's single to center followed by walks to Toot and Prothro and Rogers' single through the box and the trick for the Hoosiers' two.

Hugely Fullerton pitched good ball against the champions for four frames but he wobbled in the fifth and was forced to retire under Gen. Howard Egan in rescue roles but he put them in the sixth round over the ball but he lightened up after the bombardment and pitched well the balance of the route.

SOX OPPOSE JOHNSON AT CAPITAL

Washington, May 4.—In an effort to place the Boston Red Sox back into the cellar position, Plot Harlow will call upon Walter Johnson to hurl today's game for the world's champions. The "Big Train" is in great form and Husky will depend upon him to make it two in a row.

But there is no talking about that crew under the guardianship of Lee Post, as they appear to be a pretty sturdy crowd at hitting the pipe, and may step out and make the afternoon an unpleasant one for the mighty Kansas cyborg.

The Hoosiers had little chance of climbing further up the ladder, as they lost to the Red Sox yesterday, and the Sox were in a mighty fine fettle today. The Sox scored their fair share of runs.

Wheeler's single to center followed by walks to Toot and Prothro and Rogers' single through the box and the trick for the Hoosiers' two.

Hugely Fullerton pitched good ball against the champions for four frames but he wobbled in the fifth and was forced to retire under Gen. Howard Egan in rescue roles but he put them in the sixth round over the ball but he lightened up after the bombardment and pitched well the balance of the route.

BRASS CLASH WITH DOGGERS AT WIGWAM

Dave Bancroft and his Braves returned to the Wigwam today, to linger around for the rest of the month. The Tribe seems the year's longest home stand with a four game Brooklyn series, and then enters all the western clubs. Chicago comes first, followed by Pittsburgh, Cincinnati and St. Louis. Then the Dodgers come back for a two-day visit, including Memorial Day.

That stretch will give Boston fans a real opportunity to get a line on the new National League team, which promises to create quite a lot of commotion before the season is over. The club has been playing a lot of very fine baseball, and getting some good pitching.

Barnes, Genshiff, Conroy and Marquard have been turned in great games, and so has Kyle. Graham, though, the way the new athletes have started to slap the ball. Jimmy Walsh, the coast wonder, is pinning himself up against the Tribe, and Dave Harris is giving him quite a chase.

Jimmy looked like a big leaguer from the first minute he appeared in a Braves uniform, and it didn't take the club long to send over the $50,000 that he demanded for the young man. It will improve as the season goes on, and unless he fails again will develop into the classiest outfielder the Tribe has owned since the dark ages.

Sheriff Harris looked like a bust in the first few games. But he has recovered, and threatens to produce the kind of play that has been missing in the Tribe. He is a real rookie, and he is a big show nervousness hit him hard.

He is hitting consistently, and rambling around after fair balls like a real go-getter. If he hits at all he is sure to stick for he's the real thing. He will improve as the season goes on, and unless he fails again will develop into the classiest outfielder the Tribe has owned since the dark ages.

The club is still making a second baseman, though. Patrick has been playing well since he supplanted Lucas. He is a good hitter, but not what you might call a ground crawler. He is an improvement over the second basing of last year, but the team needs and wants some speed around the bases.

Joe Barnes was billed to open the season today. Starting this property will be Joe's job all season unless something happens to him. With Joe and Joe coming, the Braves are quite likely to find themselves crawling up toward the top of the league.

They won two out of three from the Robins over in Brooklyn, so naturally have an edge on that club going into the present collision.

THE FINAL WORD

Get it in the Red Diamond Edition. Beginning today, what is it you want to know, just before supper?

How the ball game came out? Who won the fourth at Jamaica?

Where American Los or Maxwell Motors closed?

Easy to find out.

Beginning today, all that will be necessary will be to say "Red Diamond," to your regular newspaper.

Just like that, "Red Diamond," to your regular newspaper.

He'll know that you want the Red Diamond Edition of the Boston Evening American.

And if it is not "All sold out"—as may happen unless you say a timely word about saving a copy for your regular newspaper.

You'll find out that the Red Diamond is the final edition of the day.

It will be the Boston Evening American's final edition of the day.

Hug Breaks Rib of German Champ Heavyweight

Berlin, May 4.—An embrace cost Paul Hansen Koerner, German's heavyweight champion pugilist, a broken rib. He was hugged so hard by his sparring partner, Max Dickmann, on departing for Leipzig to box the Polish champion, Czeslaw, that one of his ribs gave way. The Leipzig match was called off.

Slattery is Pointing Towards Dempsey's Title

of Buffalo, N. Y., who cashes with Johnny Kirsch of Cleveland in a ten-round bout at the Buffalo A. C. on Friday night, is another young man who has hopes of winning Jimmy Dempsey's crown. In his Boston debut, the sensational slattery knocked out Augie Ratter in two rounds.

Thereafter, Slattery recently pursued a $15,000 offer to tackle Dempsey in a six-round bout at the St. Joseph's arena.

It will be the second meeting between Slattery and Dempsey. Their last bout was a six-round affair and was staged at Buffalo. The decision was a draw. Slattery, a youngster who is banked on to win the world's championship, is confident that with the help of four rounds longer than when he knocked Slattery at Buffalo that he will win.

Paul Doyle of New York will have Al Mills of Lowell as an opponent in the semi-final of ten rounds. Rocky Jones of Worcester will try to avenge the defeat he suffered in the hands of Jack Lewis of Worcester when he meets him in another ten-round bout.

BOSTON AMERICAN

EVERY woman wishes to be beautiful—or at least as beautiful as possible. Maria Jerizta tells you how to preserve and enhance your good looks on Magazine Page.

BLISSFUL MOMENTS

When you get your husband off to work and the children off to school and catch up to read the paper.

When the only girl tells you she had a nice dream about you the other night.

When the maid you had hired for your afternoon party acted as if she worked for you all the time.

The afternoon your mother assured you and you were almost as tall as the boy who lives next door.

When Pop says, "Well, it won't be long now before a circus comes to town."

When you trimmed over your last Spring's hat and your best friend thought that it was a new one.

After you've had a good dinner and sit down to smoke the twenty-five cent cigar the boss handed you just before you left the office.

The Perfect Complement

The Home Beautiful and the Contented Home-Maker

The Home Beautiful is made more beautiful through good management resulting from the use of a Home Budget.

Well-balanced, intelligent, and judicious make up the "Home Beautiful." Well-balanced home finances and regulation of expenditures will go far in building the "Contented Home."

A married woman's happiness is sometimes weighed on the beam of family finance. Do you get to see your husband save, make his income go farther, and get more enjoyment out of life for yourself and your family?

If so, study the Budget idea, and at least make a trial of the JOHN HANCOCK FAMILY BUDGET AND ACCOUNT SHEET, which we will send without cost to you.

If you try it one month it will help you, and we will give you additional sheets.

FAVORITE PIE PRIZES

By MARTHA LEE

THESE are an extra heavy race of mail this morning and the greater part of it was made up of letters from members of the WNAC American Women's Club enclosing pie recipes to be entered in the April-May Martha Lee Prize Contest. Have you sent in YOURS? May this will be here before you realize it and with it will end your chance of winning one of the 18 prizes offered to members of the WNAC American Women's Club for pie recipes.

I am not willing to believe that there is a single member of our club who can make a good pie. Even so, she may not be a marvel with the crust she may make a specially mouth-watering filling that would bring her pie into the prize race.

Do please brush up your skill in pie-making and send your recipe in to-day. You may need to use many recipes and the better chances you have of winning one of the valuable prizes.

And please write on only one side of the paper, be sure to give your full name and address and membership number in the WNAC American Women's Club, and include one or more of the food products listed here.

FIRST PRIZE: A beautiful four-piece silver pie server and a pie dish. Value $10.00. Donated by Mrs. J. H. Moore, 110 Tremont St., Boston. Value $10.00.

SECOND PRIZE: A beautiful pie dish. Value $5.00. Donated by Mrs. J. H. Moore, 110 Tremont St., Boston. Value $5.00.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS
An unusual number of questions sent, and those of you who do not find your questions on this page, will be answered by mail.

First, from North Easton comes a request for:

RECIPE NO. 1193
ENGLISH MUFFINS
1 c. flour, sifted.
1 1/2 c. milk.
1 1/2 c. salt.
1 1/2 c. sugar.
1 1/2 c. yeast cake.
1 1/2 c. soda dissolved in lukewarm water.

Mix the flour, milk, salt, sugar and yeast cake. Let the mixture stand overnight or until before using, if you wish. Then add the soda dissolved in a little warm water. Cook on top of the stove in a muffin ring; serve hot, or split and toast.

RECIPE NO. 1194
BAKED HAM WITH APPLES
Large slices of ham cut one inch thick. Brown sugar, and apples.

Soak the ham in cold water for about 12 hours. Cover the ham with a layer of brown sugar, then a layer of apples peeled and cut in slices. Sprinkle another layer of brown sugar over the apples. Bake in the oven for about 4 hours. Serves 10 or 12 persons.

RECIPE NO. 1195
LAMB HASH
1 qt. lamb, chopped fine.
2 lbs. butter.
1 onion, minced.
1 cup tomatoes.
1 tsp. capers.
Salt and pepper.
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce.
1 cup stock or water.

Stew these ingredients together for 15 minutes. Serve with triangles of toast. This will serve 6 persons.

RECIPE NO. 1196
REAL SOUTHERN FRIED CHICKEN
One or more chickens.
Salt.
Flour.
Corn meal mush.
Parsley.
1/2 pt. rich milk.
Butter.

Pepper—Lard
Cut the chickens up as for fricassee, dredge well with flour, sprinkle with salt, and fry in a hot oil. Fry the pieces of mush, make into a mush, and also fry a quantity of parsley, to be served in the dish with the chicken. Take 1/2 pt. of rich milk, add to it a small bit of butter, with pepper, salt and onion powder over the chicken, then garnish with fried parsley. The Marylanders always fry small chickens, not b. oilers.

This is a type of salt which is very popular in the South. It is a style which is smart in any material, including silk. The double breasted jacket fits snugly, but below the knee. It is fashioned in very graceful of a very thin variety. Over each pocket is a stitched seam in a V shape to the side. Quite worthy of note are the multi like cats composed of creases, etc. The buttons on the at center of the seams are very attractive. The buttons are made of the same material as the jacket, and are very attractive.

This was a sudden flurry in the crowd in the lobby just outside the ballroom. Angry words and a woman's scream rose above the dreary, tender strains of a jazz one-step.

The house died roared to the scene. And what a scene.

A beautiful maid had thrown herself precipitately in front of a dapper youth, who dabbed daintily at a bleeding nose. Another youth raged and implored those holding him to "let me at him."

"What's gone on here?" inquired the dick in cultured tones. "He invited me over to hear his radio," raged the restrained youth.

LITTLE SKETCHES

MEDBURY SAYS—

By John P. Medbury

SUMMER is almost here and thousands of women are getting ready to spend their husband's vacation.

THIS average man knows where he'd like to take it, but he spends it where he's told.

WHILE the family goes to the seashore he stays home and goes broke.

HIS vacation except pay for it.

HE works hard all year and when vacation time comes they get the rest.

HIS family wants to go to the mountains and he wants to go to the beach, so they compromise and go to the mountains.

MOTHER always lives in and lets father have her way.

SHE lets him do anything she wants.

A VACATION is something that a firm gives a man for his family to enjoy.

HE earns it and they go on it.

IT'S only the first of May, but the families have to begin arguing now so that they'll be ready to start by August.

VACATIONS are usually spent in places which you can't afford. That's what makes the vacations.

SOME women couldn't enjoy themselves if they thought they were living within their means.

STILL, you can live in the cheap resorts and send postal cards from the expensive ones.

IF your vacation is going to cost too much, you can cut down some of the expenses by leaving papa at home.

HE can spend his two weeks in a telephone office waiting for you to wire for money.

IT'S all right to leave him in New York while you go to Los Angeles, and when you come back you can bring him some of the climate.

THE average man is entitled to a half month's vacation every year so that he can have a rest, and the best way to get the rest is for him to stay at home and send his family to the country.

(Copyright, 1923, John P. Medbury)

FAMOUS FIRSTS

By Mark Stuyvesant

WITHIN the past twenty years women have achieved great ends in every field of endeavor. When the great war broke out in 1914, the world was not surprised to find women in all walks of life volunteering for overseas service as nurses, truck-drivers and entertainers. But that was in 1914, when hospitals, materials and ambulances were in readiness for volunteers.

Now, go back one century. Picture to yourself thousands of wounded soldiers left to die on a battlefield in Crimea, while surgeons operated upon others in the blood-soaked trenches. Into this Gehenna of misery came the first woman nurse—Florence Nightingale.

"The Lady with the Lamp," as she was affectionately termed, was the younger daughter of the Earl of Ebury Park, Derbyshire, England. She was born in Florence, Italy, but spent her childhood in England.

Normal, healthy child, fond of playing with dolls and animals. But it was not long before her parents noticed that she looked upon them not as toys, but as patients. If one of their legs or arms dropped off, little Florence would bind the afflicted member with a bandage and, again, so that she soon became expert in the making of bandages.

The Earl of Ebury Park was a very wealthy man and naturally expected his daughter to become a prominent member of society. When the time came, although she then was only a child, she was presented at court. But this did not change her plans. Her most cherished ambition was to become a nurse, and accordingly, she made a tour of foreign hospitals, following this with a course of training in the Institute of Protestant Deaconesses at Kaiserswerth. After her return to England she devoted her time and energy to the reorganization of the Government Sanatorium, and the fact that her social position necessitated many appearances in society.

While she was engaged in this work a war broke out in Crimea between England and Russia. Stories of the sufferings of the sick and wounded stirred England. A pair of oiled funerals was opened and the money poured in. This proved the trumpet call to Florence Nightingale. She organized a staff of thirty-seven nurses and set sail for Scutari.

The story of her devotion to the task which she set herself to in one of the most remarkable pages in the annals of all history. She supervised the nursing of 18,000 men and introduced new and sanitary methods. Each night, when the actual work was over, she would make the rounds with a lamp and stop to give a comforting word to the wounded as they lay on their cots. Although she herself was taken with the fever, she refused to give up and devoted herself with renewed energy to the work.

This earned for her not only the affection and love of the soldiers, but the praise of all England. Her name became a household word.

And it was not long before she was back in England, where she was welcomed with the honors of a queen.

There was a time when the actual work was over, she would make the rounds with a lamp and stop to give a comforting word to the wounded as they lay on their cots. Although she herself was taken with the fever, she refused to give up and devoted herself with renewed energy to the work.

This earned for her not only the affection and love of the soldiers, but the praise of all England. Her name became a household word.

BEDTIME STORY

THEY CHEAT A CHEETAH

"I THINK we'd better stop and put the top up," I suggested, stopping my engine and putting on the brakes. "It's pretty hot in this sun."

"And it will keep the dust off," added Bunney, brushing his coat, which was by now a dirty yellow, and set the pure white of which my little rabbit is so proud.

I jumped out and was about to untie the top from the back of the limousine when Bobby, who was standing in the road, said:

"The circus must be coming to town!"

"What's coming up the road?"

"A cheetah," exclaimed Bobby, his eyes dancing with delight.

The procession reached us, and sure enough, there was an animal in the car.

"What is it?" exclaimed Bobby. "Why it has the head of a cat and the body of a dog."

"It's a hunting leopard," I replied. A cheetah. They train them over here to hunt. They say they make very nice pets too.

We were about to start when Bobby looked at his wrist-watch and suggested that it was lunch time. And since it was so hot and dusty, I made the motion that we remain in the car.

There we were, eating sandwiches and grapes and when we finished I was just about to light my pipe when we suddenly heard a great crashing through the woods.

We waited. It came nearer. Some animal was tearing through the woods.

And indeed, a cheetah was tearing through the woods.

And indeed, a cheetah was tearing through the woods.

A Well-Managed Earth

This Little Fish Proves It

The tile fish. Cold killed millions like it. We should all be grateful to protecting Providence.

You live on a planet well managed, and should be deeply grateful. The blood in your veins and arteries stands permanently at a temperature of about 98 degrees. Winter or Summer, whether you dwell on the Equator with the temperature 140 degrees above zero, or in the Arctic region with a temperature 80 degrees below zero, still your blood remains at 98 degrees. Mysterious, marvelous, the machine in which your spirit lives and accomplishes its results. You should be grateful for that.

And, as with us little individuals, so with this earth of ours. To us there is a gigantic difference between 140 degrees of heat at the Equator and 80 degrees below zero in the North. But that difference is slight compared with the extremes of temperature that surround us.

Protected by its thin atmosphere, this earth travels through the ether, surrounded on all sides by a cold so intense as to be entirely beyond our imagination, the cold of ABSOLUTE ZERO.

If that dreadful cold could penetrate our atmosphere and strike us, this earth, its oceans, waterfalls and every living being on it would be frozen instantly.

And as with the intense cold of the ocean of ether through which we roll around the sun, so with the intense HEAT of our blazing star the sun, that lights and warms our planet. If the sun's full heat should touch this earth the earth would shrivel up like a dry leaf thrown into a bonfire. And if this earth should fall into the sun, which kind Providence forbid for a few more million years, anyhow, the earth, before reaching the sun, would melt and vanish like a snowflake falling into a red hot furnace.

We are indeed wonderfully protected, inside our little bodies, and within the earth's thin atmosphere in which we live, wiggle and work out our brief day.

The small fish at the head of this column, known as the tile fish, is used to point a moral and to adorn this tale.

That fish lived in swarms in the ocean; endless millions of these creatures swam about. American fishermen had arranged to market the fish in great quantities, when all of a sudden disaster overtook the tile fish.

The temperature of that part of the ocean in which they lived dropped suddenly. What CAUSED it, or how great a drop it was, we don't know. It may have been the Gulf Stream temporarily shifting out of its course, or some wandering frigid current from the North, or some great mass of submerged ice that suddenly caused it to vanish.

Whatever caused it, these fish died instantly by the tens of millions. Ships plowed through their dead bodies, covering an area from FIVE TO SEVEN THOUSAND SQUARE MILES in extent, on the ocean's surface.

It was as though cold or heat unbearable had suddenly swept over a great city, leaving all of its inhabitants lifeless.

Against such a disaster there is no possible protection, either for fish or men.

Such disasters occur on this earth in different ways. Last January, at Water's Bay, near Cape Town, the shore was suddenly covered with the dead bodies of fish of all kinds, sharks, soles, all sorts. They had been thrown up by a volcanic outburst under the sea.

And when, forty-two years ago, the great volcano of Krakatoa exploded, hurling its peak three thousand feet high into the air and into the sea, every living creature on the island of Krakatoa, and the nearby island of Verlaten, was instantly destroyed, both islands being covered two hundred feet deep by hot ashes.

Many remember how that great volcanic explosion, throwing vast quantities of dust into the air, affected the sunsets all over the world and affected the weather. It had a wonderful effect, for the power of the explosion threw up a gigantic tidal wave that washed the shores of Sumatra and of Java, near Krakatoa, drowning 30,000 people and wiping out their villages.

Fortunately in the wholesale destruction of the tile fish, of which you see a picture above, a few survived. Those few will soon renew the great tile fish family, and people the ocean with more of the fish.

Nature through the intense fertility of the various species is able to renew them when they are almost extinct.

If the tile fish could pray, which they can't, they would undoubtedly be grateful and express their gratitude that a few of them survived.

Human beings that CAN pray should appreciate the fact that they sail around the sun in what is practically a terrestrial hot-house, protected on the one hand from the dreadful cold of the ether, and on the other from the fierce heat of the sun, carrying within themselves a marvelous mechanism to regulate their temperature, keeping it always even, as it should be, at the Equator or at the North Pole.

A WIFE'S MEDITATIONS

By Elsie Robinson

REMOVE a man's collar, and you remove his dignity, most of his beauty and all of his "civilization." No man ever yet got tired of changing a woman; it is only after he OVER-TAKES her that he begins to realize that he's tired.

One thing that astonishes a Helen Rowland woman these days, is how her husband can continue to go at top speed, abuse his constitution and break all the rules of health—and yet live on.—and eat—and ON!

Alas, last Summer's love affair, like last year's bathing suit, always looks pretty faded and colorless when held up to the rays of this Summer's sun.

No married man ever lets his wife know how ill he is when she's away—partly for fear he'll get his brand-new and partly for fear she'll melt back and spoil HIS vacation.

FORCES OF GOOD AND EVIL

By DR. FRANK CRANE

ALL the good things in the world may be said to be those things which produce growth and all the evil forces in the world.

If this be a fair interpretation, then the source of good and evil is one and not double. In other words, there is one God and not two.

All the things which delight us could very well torment us if the conditions were different.

It takes three things to make an apple grow: sunshine or warmth, rain or moisture, and unity with the parent tree. Now, let an apple fall to the ground. It will be found that the very things that rot it are the things that made it grow in the first place; heat, moisture and a lack of connection with the parent stem.

This illustrates that the agents of punishment or sorrow are the same as the agents of reward or joy. The same forces make for disease that make for health. The same agents build up which tear down.

The difference between a dog running happily along the highway and the dog dead by the side of the road is simply that in the first instance the dog is utilizing food and sunshine and air, while in the second place the sunshine and air are utilizing him.

The difference between life and death is whether you are eating your environment or it is eating you.

All things are said to work together for the good. It is just as true that all things work against the evil.

A good man is simply one who has lined himself up with his environment. The bad man is one who thinks he can succeed against all influences around him.

Life is nothing but harmony. It is being in tune with our conditions.

To get out of tune means disease, moral evil and eventually death.

The forces of the universe are all streaming in one direction. When we go with them we are being advanced. When we seek to go against them we are destroyed.

It is not necessary to invent a devil for the very forces which make for righteousness are the forces which make for punishment of the wicked.

THE LURE AND LORE OF THE MOON

By Garrett P. Serviss,
Noted Astronomer and Writer on
Scientific Topics of Popular Interest.

A READER writes me that he has been told that the round outline of the earth's shadow on the moon is a visible proof that the earth is a globe, but he asks me to explain the fact that the lunar phases have no connection with the earth's shadow.

The moon runs through them in the same order every month and the illuminated part of her surface is always on the side toward the sun, its border is curved except at first and last quarter because of the moon's spheroidal form.

It is to be remarked that while the border between light and darkness on the moon always appears curved, except as already stated, the curvature is generally much shorter than the curvature of the earth's shadow seen on the moon.

In fact the earth is so much larger than the moon that, on the average, the diameter of its shadow, at the point where the moon traverses it, is about two and one-half times as great as the diameter of the moon.

That is the reason why a lunar eclipse often lasts for several hours. The moon chases the shadow and, when it has nearly reached it, the shadow, passing through it, as an aeroplane might pass slowly through a cloud drifting in the same direction in which it itself is moving.

As the moon moved out of the shadow the curve of the latter would be convex toward the left instead of toward the right. On the average when the moon goes centrally through the shadow it occupies about four hours in the passage.

Eclipses of the moon occur only at the time of full moon and there are seldom more than two such eclipses in a year because the inclination of the moon's orbit causes it ordinarily to pass by the shadow without entering it.

One of the phases of the moon from the new moon the crescent on the right, through first quarter, to full moon, when it is a half circle, next the gibbous phase, when more than half its surface is seen illuminated, and so on to full, when it is a full circle.

As the moon moved out of the shadow the curve of the latter would be convex toward the left instead of toward the right. On the average when the moon goes centrally through the shadow it occupies about four hours in the passage.
